DRUGGED IN THE CRADLE.

Nursery is Responsible for Much Inebriety.

Opium and Alcohol Frequently Given to Infants.

Neglect of a Baby's Diet Results in Awful Consequences.

The inebriety of later life is often the result of opium and alcohol given in some form to babies for trivial reasons. Nurses who have given children medicines for indigestion know how difficult it is to wean the child from the drugs.

The one great duty of parents to their children is, therefore, not to give them medicine, but to make sure that they get food, pure, ample and capable of supplying materials of healthy growth and development.

Where natural mother's milk is out of the question or insufficient for the enormous demands made by the rapidly growing child, lactated food is prescribed by physicians. It quickly makes chubby, rosy-faced, lively babies, the delight of mothers, fat, happy and crowing.

Writes Mrs. Daniel Brown, 1141 Cross St., Central Falls, R. I.:

"I have three of the most healthy little children in the State and I must say that they owe their health to having been brought up on lactated food. One of the leading doctors in Pawtucket advised me to use it and I shall always feel glad that I followed his advice. My youngest child is 14 months old and is as healthy and cheery as any little boy could be, and I am sure that lactated food has a great deal to do with it. It has been a great blessing to our little family, and I consider it my duty to recommend it to all my friends. They all have the same good word for it after they have tried it; it has only to be tried and the good results will be seen at once. I shall always feel grateful to the girls who placed lactated food within the reach of all, whether rich or poor."

Lactated food is in fact most economical, as it is most nourishing and healthful.

Muscular Rheumatism OF LONG STANDING Cured!

A Dutiful Son Rejoices!

The Kind that Never Fails

EACH BOTTLE GUARANTEED.

RHEUMATISM

People who have the disagreeable malady need no words of description. They know too well the pains and aches, or the stiff and myalgic joints, or the lameness and overtiredness. Rheumatism is caused by an acid in the blood. It can be cured, and it could be here ready for the sufferer, but there is only one way to CURE it.

Better your stomach and blood. Use Dr. Baker's Grape Cure. No medicine ever discovered is so certain. Grapes are always present to the stomach and this peculiar extract of the fruit, combined with certain herbs, is a magnificent medicine. One pleasant teaspoonful a dose. A dollar bottle contains nearly a month's supply. Patiently use a few bottles of GRAPE CURE and your rheumatism will soon be gone forever. The blood will become pure and free from the acid. At the same time comfort and rest will come to entire system as a good stomach medicine improves the general health. You will feel better all over. We warrant this to will refund $10.00, for the unused portion of the complaints in which this splendid medicine has great success. Your DRUGGIST has it or can GET it for you. Or try other stores. Price $1.00.

Deputy Commissioner Bell Gives up his Disability Pension.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. It has just leaked out from the Pension Bureau that Deputy Commissioner Bell, who has made numerous public statements severely condemning the disability pension of Judge Long and others, was himself in the same boat with the pensioners who are now hauled up for his scrutiny. Up to the 31st of May last he drew a disability pension of $12 a month for the "loss of teeth, indigestion and heart disease," alleged to be the result of his military service. The decision of Assistant Secretary Reynolds, which placed able bodied veterans beyond the pale of the pensionable, was rendered on the 27th of May, four days later. On the 31st Bell addressed a letter to the commissioner, in which he relinquished his pension, declaring he had considered himself entitled to it under a former decision, but thought under Reynold's ruling he was no longer entitled to draw the amount. Deputy Commissioner Bell being asked if the statement was true about his having drawn a disability for himself replied, "I supposed that everything would come out sooner or later. Yes, it is true."

EXCURSION STEAMER SUNK.

Eight Persons Drowned.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 4. A steamer with an excursion party left Fourteen Mile Island, Lake George, for Pearl Point this morning. At Pearl Point landing the steamer sank and twelve lives were lost.

Another despatch says the steamer, which was the Rachel Sherman, was sunk by striking a rock. Twenty-nine persons were on the boat; eight were drowned and the remaining twenty-one saved.

While the little vessel was going up the lake she was turned toward the One Hundred Island House and was gliding toward the landing when the passengers were thrown forward by a sudden shock. In the dark the vessel had run upon a sunken pier and when assistance arrived from shore it sank. It was only a few moments after the shock when the boat careened to one side and went down in eighteen feet of water.

BUSINESS TROUBLE.

Closed Under Execution.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Aug. 4. The Woodstock yarn mills have been closed under an execution on judgment for $101,600. Two hundred hands are idle.

Judgment for $208,000.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 4. Yesterday William Semple, of Allegheny City, president of the Pittsburg, Akron & Western Railroad Co., confessed judgment to the amount of $208,000. The action is merely a precautionary measure and it is thought will not lead to any further financial troubles.

ON THE SAFE SIDE.

Steamer and Passengers From Naples Held at Quarantine to Await Results.

QUARANTINE, N. Y., Aug. 4. Dr. Tillmadge this morning boarded the steamer Karamania, which arrived from Naples yesterday, and on which three suspicious deaths occurred on the voyage, and inspected the passengers. All are well. Dr. Jenkins asked the commissioners of the quarantine to send transfer boats to take the passengers to the islands, where they will be bathed and washed. Dr. Jenkins says that while he can find no evidence that cholera exists or has existed on the Karamania he deems the circumstances sufficiently suspicious to hold the vessel and passengers until all doubts are removed. This morning arrangements were made to locate the passengers on the islands.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

A Bad State of Affairs Throughout the Republic.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 4. Mail advices from San Jose De Costa Rica, Central America, report a disastrous state of affairs there. Throughout the republic there is a financial panic caused by the condition of the silver market. Failures have been numerous and more are expected. All business is very much depressed, and no change is looked for until some action is taken, that will render the silver situation more stable.

Yellow fever is reported raging at Port Limon on the Atlantic side. Half the population, it is said, have fallen victims to the disease.

IN PLACE OF CURRENCY.

Fall River Mills Issuing Five Dollar Checks.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 4. The Bourne mills, to-day, began the issuing of checks for five dollars, payable at Massasoit Bank, to meet the situation resulting from the shortage in currency, and will probably be accepted by grocers and operatives without question. Other mills propose to take similar steps.

Richard Borden Manufacturing Co. will shut down Monday, for one week.

SAD ACCIDENT.

A Runaway in Springvale, the Cause of the Death of an Eight-Year Old Boy.

SANFORD, Aug. 4. Horses attached to a carriage of a travelling troupe from Philadelphia were frightened in Springvale Thursday afternoon and ran away and upset the carriage. A heavy trunk fell on the head of an eight-year old boy belonging to the company, killing him instantly.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Thousands of Men Out of Employment.

Western Railroad Men Take a Hopeful View.

Never So Much Tonnage in Sight on the Corn Roads.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. The World prints an article which shows that from fifty-seven trades in New York city alone over 30,000 men are out of work, and it is declared that this represents only a portion of the city's unemployed. Thousands are coming here from the west in search of employment and immigrants are tarrying in New York, because of business stagnation. In the Western States altogether, the situation is a gloomy one.

Railroad Men Take a Hopeful View.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4. Western railroad men are inclined to take a hopeful view of the present situation. They look for good times beginning in September or at the latest in October. Said President Miller, of St. Paul, yesterday: "Everything depends on the financial conditions. There are good crops in our territory and a reasonable prospect of good prices for our crops. The people at large are not poor, and the country is in such a state as respects its resources, as will enable it to respond with reasonable promptness to improved financial conditions."

The corn roads especially are becoming more and more encouraged every day. Nothing but good reports on corn products are received at the Burlington and Atchison headquarters. President Reinhardt, of the Atchison, said yesterday: "I have received complete reports of the tonnage prospects from every point on our system. It looks within bounds to say that we never had such tonnage in sight. The future is all favorable, and already our tonnage is increasing. I believe the worst of the trouble is over."

Mills Closed Down--Thousands of Employes Idle.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 4. The worsted goods manufactory of John Bromley & Sons closed last night on account of the depressed condition of trade. Three thousand employes are effected.

To-night Dobb & Sons' worsted manufacturers, will close their mill for the same reason and 800 employes will be thrown out of work.

John Bland & Bros., hosiery manufacturers, have closed their plant and 500 men and girls are idle.

Numerous other manufactories of this class are worked on short time.

Growing Serious in New Bedford.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 4. The situation in the mills of this city grows more serious. Potoniska No. 1 will shut down, Saturday night, for an indefinite period. Beaman No. 1 will probably do likewise, while the New Bedford Manufacturing Co. will curtail by running five days a week. Parts of all the mills are idle.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Made an Apology.

LONDON, Aug. 4. A Bangkok despatch says: By Admiral Humann's command, the captain of the French gunboat Lutin has made an unreserved apology to Capt. McLeod, of the British cruiser Pallas, for having steamed down with the crew at the quarters and guns out upon the Pallas, which was lying outside the blockade line. Capt. McLeod's prudence and coolness alone averted an armed conflict.

People of Bangkok Still Anxious.

LONDON, Aug. 4. A despatch from Bangkok dated Thursday night says that nothing has been done yet to carry out the presumed instructions to the French officials to raise the blockade. Residents are still very anxious. The opinion is that Rear Admiral Humann is receiving orders through Saigon, where the forward parties are delaying in the hope that events may enable France to increase her demands.

The French Blockade Reported Raised.

PARIS, Aug. 4. Rear-Admiral Humann, commanding the French fleet now in the Siamese waters, announces that the blockade of Siam was raised yesterday afternoon.

Against Home Rule.

DUBLIN, Aug. 4. The Dublin section of the Independent Nationalists Parnellites, held a meeting to-day and voted against the acceptance of the Home Rule bill.

The Satanita Wins the Race of Royal Yacht Squadron.

LONDON, Aug. 4. The regatta of the Royal Yacht squadron took place today. The course was the same as that sailed over yesterday, from Cowes to and around Warner Lightship, and return. The course was covered twice, making the distance sailed 50 miles. A light southwest wind was blowing and occasionally it rained. Nahoe's mainsail which was split yesterday was repaired and to all appearance is as good as new. The starting gun was fired at 10 o'clock. Though the Navahoe got best position she cut a poor figure. She tacked shorewards with the apparent intention of taking the other yachts' wind, but the attempt failed.

The Satanita finished first; the Valkyrie second; Calluna third, and Navahoe last. The prize was $500.

Conflicting Reports Regarding the Cholera in Naples.

LONDON, Aug. 4. A Rome despatch says: Since the outbreak of the cholera in Naples, more than 100,000 inhabitants have fled from that city. Official reports greatly understate the facts. The report for Sunday last said there were seven new cases and nine deaths. Reliable private advices declare there were 53 new cases and 28 deaths on that day, 43 new cases and 27 deaths Monday. Several cases of cholera have occurred in Rome.

Government Closing Schools in Russia.

ODESSA, Aug. 4. The government is closing all the schools in the south of Russia in consequence of the

Two doctors of an Eastern town,
To learning much inclined,
Were called to see a gentleman,
Whose health was undermined.

The first one used his stethoscope
Upon his patient meek.
"I find," said he, "your lung is gone;
You cannot live a week."

To this the other wise M. D.
Vehemently objected.
"Pshaw," quoth he, "a man can live
Your kidneys are affected."

Those wise men argued loud and long,
Yet the patient owes recovery
(Not to those doctors, but to Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery).

There are some patent medicines that are more marvelous than a dozen doctors' prescriptions, but they're not those that profess to cure everything.

Everybody, now and then, feels "run down," "played out." They've the will, but no power to generate vitality. They're not sick enough to call a doctor, but just too sick to be well. That's where the right kind of a patent medicine comes in, and does for a dollar what the doctor wouldn't do for less than five or ten.

We put in our claim for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

We claim it to be an unequaled remedy to purify the blood and invigorate the whole system.

We claim it a great blood-purifier, sold through druggists, no matter how many doses are offered for a dollar.

We claim it to be sold on a guarantee, that you get benefit, or the money back paid for the good you get.

G. A. R.

National Encampment.

The following General Orders of the Commander-in-Chief and Department Commander of the G. A. R., respecting the coming National Encampment, to be held at Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5th, will be of interest to the veterans in this vicinity:

NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS, GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 28, 1893.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 11:

I. The 27th National encampment of the G. A. R. will assemble in Tomlinson's Hall, Indianapolis, Ind., at 10.30 A. M., September 6, 1893.

II. The annual parade will take place on the 5th of September at 10.00 A. M. Directions as to assembling and movement of the several divisions will be given in future orders. National Aides-de-Camp will report on arrival at Indianapolis to Senior Aide-de-Camp David S. Brown at the Denison Hotel for instructions. Comrade Brown will have charge of the mounting and formation of the Aides in the column and will detail such assistants from the corps of Aides as he considers necessary.

III. National Headquarters train will leave Milwaukee, Wis., at 7.30 A. M., September 4th, by way of Ch. M. & St. P. R. R. to Chicago and thence over the Monon Road to Indianapolis where the train will arrive at 5.00 P. M. the same day.

IV. The National Council of Administration will meet at the Headquarters in the State House in Indianapolis at 8.00 P. M. on September 5th.

V. Rates to the Encampment have not been definitely announced but the Commander-in-Chief feels warranted in assuring the Comrades that the fare will be as low as at any previous Encampment.

VI. A conference of the Grand Army of the Republic Chaplains will meet on Wednesday, September 6th, at 10.30 A. M., at Room 31, in the Monroe County Court House.

VII. The commission of Geo. W. Hanson, Dallas, Texas, who was appointed Aide-de-Camp of the staff of the Commander-in-Chief, April 12th, 1893, has been revoked.

VIII. Comrades are requested to bear in mind that five constitute a quorum of a Post consisting of less than fifty members.

IX. It is expected that the 27th National Encampment will encourage a law to insure the preference in appointment to office under the government and retention to public employ of Veterans of the War of 1861-65, who are properly qualified.

X. A Comrade dropped from the rolls is in no sense a member of the Order and cannot be admitted to Post meetings nor can he lawfully wear the badge or any insignia of the G. A. R. One who is suspended, though not eligible to office and without a vote, may by courtesy of the Post be admitted to its meetings for one year.

XI. The Commander-in-Chief repudiates any connection with or approval of a scheme called "A Forefit March" announced to be given at some place near Indianapolis for various prizes. Men averaging over fifty years of age should not be encouraged to engage in athletic exercises.

XII. The arrangements being made for the entertainment of Comrades and their friends at Indianapolis by the General Committee of Citizens, are judicious and ample. Indianapolis is within easy reach of a majority of the soldier population of the country. Every visitor will be carefully cared for and a large assemblage of veterans and citizens is confidently expected.

XIII. The Commander-in-Chief congratulates the Comrades upon the unanimity of sentiment which prevails throughout the Order in favor of denouncing a fraudulent pensioner when ever found and reporting his case at once for investigation. On this subject the Grand Army of the Republic faces one way.

XIV. Once more Comrades are urged to fill up the ranks of the Order from the half a million veterans outside of it who are eligible. Within our ranks the best opportunity is given to be helpful to others; to care for the widow and orphan; and to emphasize those principles of patriotism for which we so successfully contended a third of a century ago.

By command of A. G. WEISSERT, Commander-in-Chief.

E. B. GRAY, Adjutant General.

Department Commander's Orders.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF MAINE, GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, FOXCROFT, August 1st, 1893.

GENERAL ORDERS No. 7.

I. For the information of all comrades who desire to attend the National Encampment, G. A. R., to be held at Indianapolis, Ind., commencing Sept. 6th, the following announcement is made: Believing that most of the comrades would want to visit the World's Fair before returning, arrangements have been completed with the Canadian Pacific Railroad in which the rate to Chicago, via Indianapolis, and returning by the direct line, will be $4.00 more than the World's Fair rate in force to Chicago and return, at the time of the G. A. R. encampment. These tickets will be good for thirty days. Holders of these tickets, on their return, can stop off at Toronto and make the trip by boat to Niagara Falls and return, free of charge. This will enable all who desire to do so, to see the Falls and it will also afford a pleasant breaks in the journey.

Two Palace Sleeping Cars will be run to Indianapolis. One will leave Foxcroft the evening of Sept. 1st, and Greenville the morning of Sept. 2d, arriving in Montreal the evening of Sept. 2d; the other car will leave Portland the morning of Sept. 2d, going via the White Mountains and St. Johnsbury, and arriving in Montreal the same evening. At Montreal the two cars will be joined and taken to Indianapolis together.

The Sleeping Carthickets will be $5.50 for each double berth, for the trip. All who desire berths in either of these cars should address these Headquarters at once, stating at what point they will join the car, in order that berths may be assigned them. An early application will be necessary as assignments will have to be made in the order the applications are received.

The Maine Central railroad will sell tickets from all eastern points to Portland at one fare for the round trip; and the Bangor and Aroostook railroad makes a similar arrangement on its line to Greenville.

II. A fixed rate is not given for the round trip as it is believed a lower rate can be obtained from Portland and Greenville, at the time of starting, than the one now in force.

III. The Department Commander desires that all who can will make this trip in order that the Department of Maine may make a creditable showing at the National Encampment.

IV. As announced in previous orders, the Headquarters of this Department will be at the "Hotel Denison."

V. The G. A. R. muster will be held at Camp Benson, near Newport, August 19th to 26th, inclusive.

On Tuesday, the 22d, Department Commander Cushing, will be present with his staff, and will present a Grand Army Badge as a prize to the best shot among G. A. R. men. This contest is free to all comrades and is without restrictions as to the kind of rifle used.

VI. Mr. A. C. Clarke, of Whitman, Mass, desires the address of Calvin Rollins, Co. F., 7th Regt. Me. Infantry.

By order of WAINWRIGHT CUSHING, Department Commander.

H. C. VAUGHAN, Assistant Adjutant General.

USE LEON'S SARSAPARILLA, THE KIND THAT NEVER FAILS.

You don't know how much better you will feel if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It will drive off that tired feeling and make you strong.

MAINE MELANGE.

Many Interesting Features of Life in Maine.

News Gathered from All Corners of the State.

Androscoggin.

In the upper part of Lewiston lives a young man with his aged mother. He is not yet twenty-one years old, but is the support of his mother. His father came to this country from Denmark years ago, bringing his wife and son. The father died, and the mother struggled on, working to bring up her boy in the way he should go. Now that he is able to support both they live in a little up-town cottage, where the boy passes his evenings in such studies as science and history. He has a good mind and intends to be heard from some day.

Aroostook.

An Aroostook circuit, consisting of five days' trotting, is advertised to occur as follows: Woodstock, N. B., Saturday, Aug. 5th, Houlton, Tuesday, Aug. 8th, Fort Fairfield, Saturday, Aug. 12th, Caribou, Tuesday, Aug. 15th, Presque Isle, Aug. 18th.

Fort Fairfield and Caribou are now connected by telephone.

Cumberland.

Two boys, named Charles Ryan and Leo Rosch, of Portland, got onto the seat of Mr. Bickford's milk wagon, of Gorham, and the horse ran away, throwing the boys to the ground. The Rosch boy escaped unhurt but the Ryan boy broke his collar bone and fractured his skull.

Preparations are being made to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the organization of the Congregational church at Cumberland Center, which comes in early September. There will be addresses by Rev. T. S. Perry of Limerick, a former pastor, Rev. B. B. Merrill of Brewer, Rev. F. W. Davis, the pastor, and others. A poem is also expected from Rev. Mr. Perry and other exercises, all going to make this a red letter day in the history of the church. A collation will be served in Town Hall.

Kennebec.

While a party of boys were bathing at Cascade Pond, Hallowell, Wednesday afternoon, one of the number, Perley Page, aged about 11 years, waded into a deep hole and was drowned. He was taken from the water about fifteen minutes after the accident but all efforts to restore life failed.

The Kennebec ice business is dull. Out of 32 blocks of houses filled shipments have been made from only fourteen thus far. It appears almost certain that the largest stock of ice in the history of the Kennebec trade will be carried over. The only activity along the river is at the Great Falls Ice Company's houses at South Gardiner, where they are erecting a new block. Last season the Ice Company loaded fifty 6,000 ton cargoes for Atlantic City, N. J. This season the entire shipment to that point is 350 tons.

Sagadahoc.

The Bath Times is proud to hear from what it calls credible authority that the Kennebec discharges into the Atlantic a greater volume of water than any river on the coast from St. John to the Mississippi. The channel of the Kennebec is deep, as it must be to hold the body of water that flows into it from the great inland bay—Merrymeeting. It may not be generally known, rather, that this "meeting-place of the waters" no less than eleven rivers converge—some of them of considerable size.

Waldo.

McDonald & Brown, of Belfast, closed a contract, Tuesday afternoon, through Capt. E. Bonner, with C. Morton Stewart & Co., of Baltimore, to build a four-masted barkentine, of nearly the same size, model and rig as the Josephine. Her dimensions will be: Length of keel, 180 feet; beam, 36½ feet; depth, 19½ feet; registered tonnage, about 900. She is to be launched next May. The vessel is to be first-class in every respect, built of oak and Southern pine, and is intended for Stewart & Co.'s South American trade.

A curious mistake was made by some bill distributors last week. Belfast was billed about noon, one day, with programmes of an entertainment to be given that evening in Rockland. Some previous notice of the entertainment had been circulated thus, and no excursion arrangements made, that printers' ink did but precious little good.

Washington.

Upon the record of the Calais Savings Bank can be found this case: In 1871 a deposit was made of $20. There is now to the credit of that account, $19.93 showing an accumulation from interest of $29.93.

Lubec's fine new steamboat which is rapidly nearing completion and it is expected that it's opening for business will occur on or about the fifteenth of this month, which is to be inaugurated by a grand celebration.

WOMEN AS INVENTORS.

Little Children Who Have Made Money by Their Patent Rights.

Thus far no woman's invention has been greatly profitable to its originator. The most successful patent granted to a person of the gentler sex up to date is the ice-cream freezer, now universally in use. It was the idea of Mrs. Nancy M. Johnson, who died in Washington three years ago at the advanced age of ninety-five. She was the widow of a professor in the Smithsonian Institution. Rights on the freezer were taken out in 1848. Up to that time ice cream had always been made by stirring it with a spoon. Mrs. Johnson might have secured a great income for the device, but she sold it for $1,500. Another Washington woman, Mrs. A. H. Woodall, not long ago invented an attachment to the typewriting machine, by which the "carriage" is made to glide back automatically to the beginning of the line as quickly as the last line is finished, thus saving much time. She is said to have sold it to a typewriter company, which thought it worth buying, but has not used it.

Children have taken out a number of profitable patents. The youngest inventor on record is Donald Murray-Murphy, of St. John, Canada, at 8 years of age obtained from the United States exclusive rights in a sounding toy. Mabel Howard, of Washington, at 11 years, invented an ingenious game for her invalid brother, and got a patent for it. Arthur G. Smith, of Richwoods, Ill., at 12 years, invented and patented a rowling apparatus. When only 17 years old, Benjamin F. Hamilton, of Boston, took out patents on a number of devices for electric and elevated railways. A dispute over a contract, which he desired to escape from, on the ground of his minority, made an interesting case not long ago before the Commissioner of Patents. Samuel Ker, 19 years old, has patented a self-feeding pen. Other boys have invented useful devices for electric signaling, telephoning and cigarette making. George G. Pyle, of Wilmington, Del., at the age of 18, patented a machine which turns out sixty horseshoes a minute. He sold it for a sum sufficient to lift the mortgage off his father's home. In fact, it was this purpose which inspired him to undertake the task of invention.

State of Maine. [illegible] Supreme Judicial Court, [illegible] County. [illegible] D. Smith, Insurance Commissioner, in the State of Maine, complainant, vs. The Bangor Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of Bangor, in the County of Penobscot, and said Bangor Mutual Fire Insurance Company, a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the State of Maine, and located at Bangor, in the County of Penobscot, and says: First: That your complainant is Insurance Commissioner of the State of Maine, and that as such commissioner he is charged with the duty of enforcing the laws of said State relating to insurance companies, and with the duty of enforcing the laws of said State, relating to the organization and conduct of business of insurance companies in said State, and to the protection of the interests of the people of said State, relating to such business. Second: That said Bangor Mutual Fire Insurance Company is a domestic insurance company, duly organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of said State, relating to such corporations. Third: That your complainant is informed and believes that said Company has been and is now conducting its business in violation of its charter and the laws of said State, in the following particulars, to wit: First: That there are, upon the policy of insurance issued by said company, outstanding and uncancelled, policies of insurance to the amount of $[illegible] and upwards, which your complainant is informed and believes, to forty-three thousand dollars, at least, of said policies have been issued in contravention of the charter of said Company, in that said policies have been issued to officers and others of said Company, without authority, and in excess of the authorized capital stock of said Company, in violation of its charter, and in violation of the rights of its policy holders, and that the same are illegal, void and voidable, and should be forfeited, and the Company should be enjoined from proceeding further with its business, and take such other action as is prescribed by law in such cases. Third: That said corporation has an inventoried portfolio of funds to the amount of [illegible] of the value of [illegible], and that it is in fact insolvent, and that it is for the benefit of the creditors and all parties concerned, that a receiver be appointed to receive the assets of said Company, and to distribute the same according to law, and that such further proceedings may be had, and decrees and orders issued as may be necessary to wind up the affairs of said Company, and to close the business and dissolution of its trusts and liquidate for the safety of the public and for the benefit of its creditors. Fourth: Your complainant avers that it is for the best interest of the public and that it could be wound up at a much less expense than if left to the ordinary course of proceedings in equity. Wherefore your complainant prays: First: That process of subpoena may be issued directed to said Mann and Dan Brewster, Insurance Commissioners of Maine, commanding them to appear and answer all and singular the premises. Third: That such notice or notices as the court shall see fit, if any, may be ordered by the court to any or all parties interested in said company, in the same manner as if any party, by injunction, shall be enjoined from proceeding further with the business of said company, or shall be restrained from proceeding further with its business. Fourth: That a temporary injunction may be issued by said court restraining said company, its officers and agents, from proceeding further with its business. Fifth: That a permanent injunction may be issued by said court restraining said company, its officers and agents, from proceeding further with its business. Sixth: That a receiver may forthwith be appointed to take possession of the property and assets of said corporation, and wind up the affairs of said corporation, and pay the debts, so that said property and assets may be converted into cash as soon as may be, and a ratable dividend thereof made among all the creditors of said corporation, and the surplus, if any there be, went for the payment of the indebtedness of the said corporation by dividing it ratably among the persons legally entitled thereto, and that the affairs of said corporation may be wound up. That said Company [illegible] Seventh: Your complainant prays such equitable relief in the premises as the nature of the case may require and your complainant, as in duty bound, will ever pray. Dated this [illegible] day of July, 1893. JOSEPH O. SMITH, Insurance Commissioner. State of Maine, Penobscot, ss. July 24, 1893. Personally appeared Joseph O. Smith, Insurance Commissioner of the State of Maine, and made oath that he has read the foregoing bill in equity and knows the contents thereof, and that the same are true of his own knowledge, except in matters stated to be upon information or belief, and as to those matters he believes them to be true. Before me, BYRON BOYD, Justice of the Peace. STATE OF MAINE. Penobscot, ss. Sup. Jud. Court, in Chancery, July 22, 1893. Joseph O. SATURDAY, AUGUST 5, 1893.

Senator Gorman, of Maryland, is another Democratic statesman who has obtained light on the tariff question in view of the present business depression. He finds that many business men regard the promised raid on the tariff as responsible for the existing condition, and counsels a moderate re-arrangement of the tariff schedules.

The Democratic members of the House will hold their caucus this evening if a sufficient number of Representatives are in the city at that time. So far as the nomination for Speaker is concerned the caucus will simply carry out the prearranged plan. Mr. Crisp's election is a foregone conclusion and he is now engaged in arranging the committees of the House.

It now transpires that Deputy Pension Commissioner Bell, who has been making numerous statements to vindicate Hoke Smith's raid on the Union veterans, and who was especially severe in his denouncement of the disability pension allowed Judge Long, of Michigan, has himself been drawing a disability pension of $12 a month for "the loss of teeth, indigestion and heart disease" up to the first of June when he relinquished it. As he is drawing some $3,500 a year from the government he concluded that he could get along without the pension, especially as he was afraid the "thing would come out sooner or later." There are lots of old soldiers who would be glad to exchange the paltry pension they are getting from the government for much less salary than Bell is drawing.

"Under no considerations will I accept a nomination for Governor." This is the positive declaration of ex-Governor Campbell, of Ohio, when informed that it was the purpose of the convention to ignore his previous statements and force the nomination upon him. He added that he should be in the convention and said: "If my name is mentioned I shall withdraw it." Incidentally he remarked that he was not "in a position to make a strong fight" for several reasons, one of which he declared to be that he is not "financially fixed to stand the expense of a campaign." This is not the real reason, however. Mr. Campbell knows that the Democratic candidate is going to be hopelessly defeated in Ohio this fall and he is not disposed to offer himself as a sacrifice. He manifests excellent judgment in keeping out of the race.

Democratic Confusion.

The more closely the situation is studied to-day the easier it becomes to understand the utterly demoralizing effect of the Democratic victory last fall. Congress will convene next week in extra session, but no man can tell what the policy of the party is to be. Even the Democratic leaders themselves are all at sea on this point. It is hoped that the silver purchase act may be repealed. But it is the opinion of Democratic papers to-day that the contest will be a prolonged and bitter one, to which is added the fear based on the well-known record of the party that legislation will be substituted that will prove infinitely worse for the country.

The very fact it is conceded that the Speaker of the House is to be Mr. Crisp, a man heretofore thoroughly committed to the silver policy of the party as Speaker and while on the floor, adds to the general confusion in the public mind. Then again there exists an uncertainty as to whether Congressman Bland, the free coinage leader of the Democratic party, or some other member, will head the Coinage Committee in a Congress called for the avowed purpose of repealing the silver purchasing act. It is intimated that sufficient pressure has been brought to bear on Mr. Crisp to secure the appointment of Congressman Bland from the head of this committee, but it is all a matter of guess work.

The same confusion prevails as to the policy of the party on the tariff question. The last Democratic convention placed Mr. Cleveland on a platform pledging him to the annihilation of the entire protective system, which was declared to be a robbery of the people and unconstitutional. In view of the panic that has resulted by reason of the election of a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress on this platform, some of the most pronounced advocates of this doctrine in times past are now hedging. For instance the Boston Herald insists to-day that the tariff plank in the party platform is a "mere generality" and of no binding force on the President and his party. On the other hand the Atlanta Constitution, a paper speaking for the South, the section that dominates the Democratic party, has this to say:

"They say that the Sherman law has caused some of the trouble, but that the most of it has come from the carelessness and anxiety of business men and manufacturers who do not know what to expect from Democratic revision of the tariff. But this is nonsense. People who can read the Democratic platform ought to know precisely what to expect. That declaration, on which the party received the indorsement of the people, tells the country precisely what will be done. The Democratic Congress is pledged to a tariff for revenue only and the unlimited coinage of gold and silver at a parity with each other. And if the present Congress does not carry out the platform another Democratic Congress will be chosen to put in operation the demands of the people.

"This is the condition that prevails on the very eve of the assembling of Congress. It is a condition calculated to increase the confusion and lack of confidence that exists in all business circles. When the members of the party in control take such radically different and conflicting views as to the weight to be attached to their own declarations of alleged principles, the country cannot well tell what to expect. The only thing that is certain in these days of uncertainty is that the Democratic party to-day, as it has ever been in the past, is utterly incompetent to deal with the great questions of public weal in a way to redound to the prosperity and credit of the people."

Democrats and Silver.

At the meeting of the silverites in Chicago ex-Congressman Pierce, of Tennessee, who was the lieutenant of Chairman Bland in the last Congress, was one of the speakers. In defining the Democratic attitude on the silver question he took occasion to arraign the Administration as follows:

"I say here, without fear of contradiction, because I speak from the record that the Democratic Representatives from the South and West, constituting the overwhelming majority of the Democrats upon the floor of Congress, have every time that free silver has been presented cast their votes in the interest of the people overwhelmingly for the free and unlimited coinage of silver (Applause.) It is right that I should say this which is the truth. The truth never hurts anybody.

A voice "What will Cleveland do?" (Applause.)

"Cleveland does not represent the Democratic party," quickly retorted the ex-Congressman, and then the convention broke loose. Men jumped on their feet and cheered, while a hundred voices yelled, "That's it, he represents Wall street."

"I say, to-day as a Democrat," resumed Mr. Pierce, "that Grover Cleveland, the man from the East who claims to-day to represent the Democratic party, does not represent it, but misrepresents its position upon this question." (Applause.)

"Do you know why Cleveland was nominated?"

A voice—"Six hundred thousand dollars." (Laughter.)

"Our people throughout the South thought Cleveland was the man to protect them against the force bill. We also believed that he was an honest man and would not attempt to go against the interests or the will of his party upon the any question. The leaders were mistaken, as Cleveland's action to-day shows." (Applause and hisses.)

A Georgia friend of ex-Congressman Tom Watson yelled, "How does Crisp stand?" (Applause.)

"Charles F. Crisp," said Mr. Pierce, "has stood for twelve long years by the people in every vote in Congress in support of the free coinage of silver and I cannot believe that he will play the Judas and betray the men who made him Speaker and the people whom he represents and who sent him to Congress. (Applause followed by hisses from the Populists.)

"How about Carlisle," yelled a delegate.

"If Carlisle favors the unconditional repeal of the Sherman act," replied Pierce, "he has gone back on his record and on all the people whom he has represented in Congress for years." (Cheers and hisses.)

Big Endowment Policy.

One day in late autumn an industrious ant was standing in the front yard counting up his seed grain, when a moment's idle grasshopper happened along. "Hi, no use spending money for bounty," quoth the ant, "as, of course, you are about to die. You have had a daisy time, I fear, all summer, while I have been toiling and saving. It's going to be a hard winter, and I am sorry for you, but not a cent do you get of my grain. You ought to have been prudent like me." "Thanks," said the grasshopper, "but as I have a big endowment life insurance policy, which matures next week, I'll try to worry along without any of your valuable advice or assistance. Good day."

MAINE NEWS.

THE CHAUTAUQUANS.

Some of the Features of the Sessions.

[Special Correspondence Whig and Courier.]

MARTHA'S GROVE, FRYEBURG, Aug. 4. On Tuesday the lecture in the forenoon was by Rev. J. H. MacLaren, on the "Philosophy of Wit and Humor," and was much enjoyed by his audience. In the afternoon and evening Mr. Winship delivered two of those delightful lectures, over which everybody went wild: "The Boy of To-morrow," and "Conversation and Orators," in the last of which he fairly brought down the house and took his leave of the Fryeburg platform amidst thunders of applause. They must be uncommonly gifted speakers who are to follow after Mr. Winship, if they wish to hold the attention of a Fryeburg audience.

Wednesday was devoted to the Loyal Women of America and with that queen of American orators, Mrs. Livermore, and her corps of gifted women, there are few assembly days from which more may be expected than this.

In the morning, Mrs. Tobey's lecture was of rare interest, as any subject so closely connected with the health and longevity of the human race, as Bacteria, must necessarily be, among thinking, reasoning people. For ages, the idea of the causes of sickness and death were believed to be demoniacal and even in the last century, cases are recorded where Christian priests professed to cast out the demons that had entered into the body of the invalid. It is only within a comparatively few years that most of science have brought to light the in the human system, and by the study of these bacteria—invisible plants, so very tiny that 1,500 of them placed end to end, would not reach across the head of a pin—are striving with all the aids that science can lend to learn how to avoid the attacks of these invisible foes. Not that all kinds are injurious, by many means, for a great part of these bacteria are man's best friend, destroying germs of disease in earth, air and water; nor are those that are harmful all of one kind. The red shaped germ that produces consumption is taken in through the air, and sometimes attacks other parts of the body, than the lungs, thriving wherever organs offer the least resistance to its ravages.

Typhoid germ is usually communicated through the water; diphtheria and blood poisoning wherever there is a tender or raw surface upon which the germ peculiar to the disease may become acclimated. The lecturer spoke with great earnestness, urging upon all the necessity for the strict observance of those rules of cleanliness that are the surest safeguard against the diseases breeding bacteria.

The Wednesday afternoon address was by Mrs. George L. Peaslee of Auburn, and Rev. George M. Howe of Lewiston, on "Our Peril and Duty," both bright, earnest appeals to the christian men and women of the country to take heed of the perils surrounding our land to-day, from the pernicious influences of that ignorant, bigoted class of foreign born, Protestant-hating people who are ever striving to gain greater political influence among us.

The Principal Speaker of the day, Mrs. Mary Livermore, made an eloquent plea for our common school system, as established by our fathers.

The conference of the "Loyal Women of American Liberty," was presided over by Mrs. A. S. Ladd, of Bangor, who read in her always graceful and dignified manner a paper upon the origin, needs and general character of this comparatively young organization, after which Rev. George M. Howe, pastor of the Pine street Congregational church, Lewiston, made some remarks in regard to the influence exerted upon Scotland by the Romanistic element in that city, in the course of which he made the startling disclosure that 1,700 French children in Lewiston were growing up deprived of educational advantages, because the French priest had strictly forbidden their being allowed to and the parents were too poor to avail themselves of those established under Catholic patronage. To the honor of the Irish priest in that city, be it said that he advises his parishioners to avail themselves of the excellent schools afforded by the city.

Mrs. A. S. Ladd, of Bangor, who presided over the meeting, introduced Miss Archer, of the Boston Training School, who gave an interesting talk upon the missionary work of that organization, referring to the great difficulty of reaching the poor children of foreign extraction, on account of the religious prejudices of the parents.

She was followed by Mrs. George L. Peaslee, of Auburn, who, after a few pertinent remarks read aloud, by request, the "Declaration of Principles of the L. W. of A. L.:

1st. Absolute separation of church and State, in all matters pertaining to taxation and education.

2nd. No appropriations of moneys, from National, State, County, Town, or Municipal treasuries for sectarian or denominational uses.

3rd. No ecclesiastical intimidation toward citizenship or statesmanship.

4th. A free and fearless press, only to be restrained by law, when it mistakes license for liberty.

5th. An American free public school system of education, in which the National language has precedence, and in which the history and principles of our republican government are taught, and from which all Sectarianism is Excluded.

6th. A public commital of all candidates for elective offices in the Nation or the State, to the acceptance and defence of distinctive American principles and institutions.

7th. Judicious and wisely restricted immigration laws.

8th. The National flag should symbolize all the above principles, and should never be supplanted by any other ensign, in any place in all the land.

In the evening a fine concert was given by the Cecilian Quartette of Portland, with Mr. John Stewart Barrows as reader.

On Thursday the first of the White Mountain excursions took place, with a bright, sunny day to help make it a success.

SAVINGS BANKS

Of Rockland and Thomaston will Require Notice!

ROCKLAND, Aug. 4. The Rockland Savings Bank and the Thomaston Savings Bank, following the course pursued by the other banks of Maine and Massachusetts, are requiring thirty days' notice under the State law, upon the withdrawal of deposits. Both of these banks are in the soundest possible condition and no fears of withdrawals are apprehended, but they take this precaution against possible contingencies and loss to depositors from the sacrifices of securities.

DELAY THE MAILS

By Returning to the Old Method.

ROCKLAND, Aug. 4. Camden and Rockport business men are indignant because the contract for carrying the mails between those towns and Rockland has been awarded to L. H. Pease, of Tompkinsville, Conn. The electric railroad has carried the mails the past year quickly and satisfactorily, but under the new contract there will be a return to the old method of horses with an increase of time.

GAY BAR HARBOR.

The Talk of a Casino Makes Its Annual Appearance.

It is Still Just as Far From Realization as Ever.

Features of Life at the Famous Maine Resort.

[Special Correspondence Whig and Courier.]

BAR HARBOR, August 4. Just as regularly as the calendar announces the first of August, does the discussion regarding a casino break forth. Up to that time the subject is touched upon at intervals but it does not become general until this date. Never was this need so apparent as now. That Kebo is too far away from the village is well known but every season there is more grumbling than on the year before. If the family horses and carriages are here there is much time lost in going and coming, but if one has to hire a conveyance every time he takes a party his stable bill at the end of the season is something amazing.

Every year there is a rumor that some hotel has been purchased by a syndicate for a casino so people may pay little attention to these floating stories, now, but should it ever materialize it will be a matter for public rejoicing.

Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, of Philadelphia, the leading nerve specialist of the country, will give a lecture to-morrow in the chapel of St. Saviour's church for the benefit of the Bar Harbor library. Dr. Mitchell will talk on literary topics, dealing principally with the events during the lives of the early English dramatists.

Can it be possible that Sorrento is

from Bar Harbor? There are those who seem to think that this may come to pass. The Dolphin passes this harbor for that port and now the entire Massachusetts Yacht Club is there and its members are having so good a time that they have no desire—so they say—of visiting this island. There is a continuous programme of gayeties there and every one joins in the fun. Last evening there was a hop in honor of the visiting yachtsmen and to-morrow morning they will have a race for the prize offered by the Sorrento Club.

This afternoon Mr. Charles W. Carter takes all the hotel guests and the tennis players to a clam bake at Whitney's point; Saturday afternoon there will be a ball game between the Cherryfield and the home team. Monday there will be a cruise around the island in the Gypsey, with a dinner on Cranberry Island and various other events. Theatricals are talked of, also a masquerade. Dinner and lunch parties from Bar Harbor, Grindstone Neck and other places are frequent at the hotel, which is doing a remarkable business. The tennis tournament has kept things lively and altogether, Sorrento is on the topmost wave of popularity.

The Beautiful Estate

at Hull's Cove that was purchased by Senator Yulee, of Florida, just before his death is being improved at a great expense by his daughter, Mrs. C. H. Lee, of Richmond, Va., who is occupying Malcesine.

Ex-Governor Alexander H. Rice is with his daughter, Mrs. William Davies, of New York, at the Parker cottage on Mt. Desert street.

The Kebo tennis tournament opens Monday. A massive silver punchbowl valued at three hundred and fifty dollars will doubtless give an impetus to the players.

The Bagnolds with Mr. John Lee Carroll, brother of Royal Phelps Carroll who is defending the cup in England, is in the harbor. On board are Miss Carroll, Mr. Cavendish Taylor, Lord Courtenay, and Baron Howes. From here their yacht will visit the Maritime Provinces. The Montecito, with Mr. and Mrs. Maddock of New York; the Chilola with Captain Judd of Newburyport and the Helen of Philadelphia owned by Mr. Edgar Scott are also here.

An Opportunity to Visit Machiasport will be given the residents of this vicinity at the big celebration now taking so much talked of. The steamer Frank Jones will run excursions for five days and the rates are so reasonable that there will be no reason why everyone who wants to see the gun-boat Machias that will of course be a great attraction.

Miss Strickland, of Bangor, and Miss Hopkins, of Ellsworth, are holding a sale of dainty paper novelties in Reddick block which is being very well patronized.

Mr. John Leland Crosby, of Bangor, is spending the month of August at the Maine Inn, Sullivan Harbor.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Prentiss, Mr. John W. Prentiss and Miss Margery Prentiss, of Bangor, are at the West End for a few weeks.

President Elliott, of Harvard College, who is at Northeast Harbor with his family for the summer, has gone to Cambridge for a few days.

Among this Week's Arrivals

at the hotels are:

The Canoe Race.

[To Associated Press.]

BAR HARBOR, Aug. 4. The first gathering of the canoe club of the season came off to-day at Hodick's Island. Mrs. C. H. Drayton, Mrs. Burton Harrison, Mrs. F. R. Jones, Mrs. Robert Sturgis, Mrs. Quincy Thorndike and Mrs. Woodworth received the one hundred and fifty guests present. The yacht Corsair arrived and dropped anchor in front of the island just before six and Pierrepont Morgan joined the festival party.

James P. Scott gave an elaborate dinner and dance at the Malvern to-night. There were fifty guests, including diplomats and society people.

A complimentary clambake was given by Manager Carter at Hotel Sorrento, Sorrento, to-day, for the tennis players and visiting yachtsmen.

Judge William L. Putnam, of Portland, is in town.

THE FINALS AT SORRENTO.

Wrenn and Talmage and Budlong the Winners.

SORRENTO, Aug. 4. The finals in both singles and doubles in the lawn tennis tournament were decided to-day in the presence of a large and fashionable gathering. R. D. Wrenn, of Harvard, defeated Malcolm Chase, of Brown, in three straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3. The first honors in the doubles were easily won by J. P. Talmage, Jr., of Yale, and Clarence R. Budlong, of Providence, who succeeded in downing J. A. Parker and J. A. Garland, three straight sets, 6-1, 6-0, 6-2.

FLAGS AT HALF MAST

Funeral of E. C. Adams at Brunswick.

BRUNSWICK, Aug. 4. The funeral of Franklin C. Adams, who died Wednesday, took place this afternoon. Flags were at half mast to-day. The member Vincent Mountfort Post, G. A. R., of which he was a member, was present in a body.

WILL GET THE GOLD.

Savings Banks to Have a Large Share of it.

Plenty of Small Currency to be Had at Treasury.

The Latest Phases of the Financial Situation.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. It is learned that a large share of the gold now coming to this country, probably $8,000,000 or $7,000,000, will find the way directly into the savings banks. The latter have sold bonds to dealers, who paid more than the national banks offered. The dealers in turn sold the bonds at an advance to the country banks, which will issue circulation notes against them. The dealers agreed to pay for the bonds in gold.

Small Currency to be Had.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. The treasury officials state that the treasury has prepared to supply all the small currency wanted and the lack of such currency in certains section is accounted for by the supposition either that all money is scarce or the banks failed to procure of the treasury the small notes needed for home consumption.

Since August 1st, the Comptroller of Currency has ordered printed for issue on security of United States bonds for national bank circulation of the amount of $3,532,000. The actual amount issued on bonds since the first of the month, is $3,101,150 and bonds deposited to secure circulation since Aug. 1st, $3,063,500.

WORKING FOR SYMPATHY

For Life Prisoners at State Prison.

ROCKLAND, Aug. 4. The American Federation of Labor, which has worked to secure the pardon of Clark and Miller, serving life sentences at the Thomaston State prison for mutiny and murder on the Jefferson Borden, has a delegate here in the person of Edward Cogan, of Brockton, Mass., who will be engaged several months in exciting public sympathy for the prisoners. At Thanksgiving time President Cleveland will be pressed for the pardon that President Harrison refused. Mr. Cogan to-day interviewed Clark and Miller, securing testimony additional to Miller's confession of four months ago which he thinks will count largely in their behalf.

USE LEON'S SARSAPARILLA, "THE KIND THAT NEVER FAILS"

USE SKODA'S DISCOVERY. The Great Blood and Nerve Remedy.

"When I was a young man," said Jonathan Gray, "I'd a fellow took physic he knew it, you bet. It would cramp him up in a colicky way. And, good Lord, what a twisting his insides would get! But the pills in use now-days by sensible folks Are as easy to take and as pleasant as jokes."

Of course, the kind referred to by Mr. Gray was Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the very best Liver Pill ever made—mild, but sure and efficacious. The only pills guaranteed to be perfectly vegetable, tried, true and trustworthy. Druggists.

A YACHT SUNK.

Twenty-nine Summer Guests Aboard at the Time.

Nine of the Number Lost Their Lives by Drowning.

An Inexperienced Pilot Responsible for the Disaster.

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y., Aug. 4. The steam yacht Rachel sank last night. She had, twenty-nine summer guests on board, nine of whom were drowned. The Rachel was chartered by a party of guests of the Fourteen Mile Island Hotel to convey them to Hundred Island House, where a dance was in progress.

Mr. Phillips, manager of the Final Point Hotel, in whose charge the Rachel was, allowed Pilot Barber to go home in the afternoon as he was ill. Claude Granger was ordered in charge of the boat by Mr. Phillips. He was not an experienced pilot, although he was familiar with that part of the lake. The boat left Fourteen Mile Island about nine in the evening.

The night was very dark and piloting was unsafe except when guided by the trained eye of the well informed boatman. Granger got too far out of the channel, when going by the old piers that supported the original dock south of Hundred Island House and struck the pier and stove a large hole in the bottom of the boat. The Rachel Sank in a Few Seconds.

The passengers scarcely know what had happened before the boat filled with water. The boat sank so rapidly that no time was given to the ill-fated pleasure seekers to utter prayers. Some passengers were caught under the shade deck and died quickly. A dozen men were on the water in row boats almost before the smokestack of the Rachel sank from sight, and hastened to the scene.

They rescued twenty passengers and took them ashore. The drowned are Miss Hattie L. Hall, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Miss Edith Harding, of Hoboken, N. J.; Miss Bertha Benedict, of Montclair, N. J.; Miss Henrietta McBarton, of Jersey City; Mrs. J. H. Mitchell, of Burlington, Vt.; Frank C. Mitchell, son of Mr. S. Mitchell; Miss Lizzie Corley, of Burlington, Vt.; Miss Clara Black, of Burlington, Vt.; Miss Lizzie Clark, Bridgeport, Conn.

The bodies of the nine who perished were recovered. It was the most distressing accident in the history of the lake. That so many lives were lost at such an early hour of the night, within speaking distance of the land where two large hotels were located, can only be accounted for by the fact that the night was unusually dark and the boat sank very rapidly.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

LOCAL MATTERS.

For Summer Outings.

THE DAILY WHIG will be sent to persons going out of town for any period of time and address changed as often as desired at 15 cents per week, postage paid.

The mill of the W. T. Pearson Company has been started in operation again.

The steamer Hector leaves to-night with a party of Bangor men aboard for a cod-fishing trip down the bay.

The Woman's Relief Corps of Indiana have already begun their extensive preparations for the annual convention of the society which will be held in Indianapolis, on September 4.

The Rockland base ball team arrived in the city yesterday afternoon on the steamer Penobscot with the Bangors, who played there Thursday, and stopped at the Windsor. They will return to-day.

Quite a number from this city will probably go to Exeter next Tuesday to attend the races which are expected to be well worth seeing. There is a large field of entries which include numerous speedy trotters and several Bangor horses will compete. The races will be started at 10 A. M.

Sixty Italians passed through the city yesterday on their way to Mattawamkeag to work on the line of the Bangor and Aroostook railroad. At Mattawamkeag they were to have taken teams to ride to the scene of the construction work. Several crews have recently gone through the city bound for the same destination.

The Odd Fellows' parade in Chicago will take place Monday, September 25th, following the close of the session at Milwaukee, which opens September 18th. Grand Patriarch Mardon has issued a circular in regard to the matter, and an effort is to be made to interest the patriarchs all over the country in the demonstration.

As a man and two women were riding quite fast in Cottageville yesterday morning the horse became frightened at a car, it is reported, and shying overturned the carriage and threw the occupants out. One of the women was considerably cut and bruised. The horse ran away and the carriage was badly smashed.

The West Branch drive cut away Thursday evening and the water reached Medway yesterday morning at eight o'clock. It will reach here this morning. The East Branch logs were at Matceunk Rips Thursday night and their progress will be aided by the West Branch water. Both drives are making good progress.

The Bangor Band's concert under the direction of Mr. Oscar E. Wagatt at Centre Park last evening was as usual very largely attended and the music was much enjoyed. The programme was a well arranged one and the stirring music furnished a pleasant evening's entertainment. The cornet solo by Mr. R. C. Adams was finely rendered.

There are sixty regular guests at the Islesborough, at Islesboro, and the hotel is doing a good business. There are various amusements and the Saturday evening hops and the Sunday evening concerts are features which prove pleasant and interesting. Quite a number of Bangor people will go to that resort today to pass Sunday and stay longer periods of time.

Our Greenville correspondent writes: There was narrow escape from a murder at Greenville Junction Thursday noon. James Naples, a C. P. Ry. section man, returned home and found a man of whom he was jealous in the house. He threw him bodily into the street and was just about to shoot when a passer-by stopped him. The excitement has blown over somewhat now.

Mrs. Rachel R. Wilson, widow of John H. Wilson, Esq., died at her home at an early hour this morning at the advanced age of eighty-six years. Death was due to an attack of heart trouble. Mrs. Wilson had not been in very good health for several months, but a fatal turn was not expected. Many friends will extend deep sympathy to R. A. Wilson, Esq., upon the death of his mother.

Penobscot Division, A. O. H. attended the funeral of the late J. J. Crowley yesterday morning at St. John's Catholic church and escorted the remains to the cemetery. There was a large attendance. Rev. Father O'Brien, Rev. Father McSweeney's assistant, officiated. The bearers were M. F. O'Connell, Charles W. Sullivan, J. Edward Canning, John S. Glynn, John M. O'Connell and Patrick Burke.

The New England Association of the Sons of Veterans, U. S. A., is entirely a social organization, meeting annually on Feb. 22, and every member of the order in New England, in good standing, is eligible, upon the yearly payment of $1 for dues. Application blanks have been sent out by the secretary and treasurer, Capt. F. S. Valentine, Birmingham, Ct. Brothers are requested to bear in mind, that only members of the association can attend the banquet to be given at Boston on February 22.

John Fox, of Portland, doesn't know and probably no one else does, just how he fell into the water in Kenduskeag stream last evening and how he managed to scramble out all right. He didn't know, for he was too much intoxicated at the time. William Haverty, in passing by the draw, bridge heard a man snoring as though he were making a good living by that style of employment. Haverty investigated and found a man lying on the foot house. Officers Nickelson, Barnes and Jacobs went there in the chariot and took the bundle of inanimate humanity (barring the snoring, which was exceedingly animated) out of this perilous position. He was hauled up to the wharf by a rope and taken to the station. His clothes were wet and he had evidently fallen off the wharf into the water, but was able to crawl up the foot house where his tired eyelids fell. He will be more tired to-day in the Municipal Court.

Civil Service Examination.

The Civil Service Commission will hold an examination in the Post-office building, Portland, Me., on August 12th, to fill a vacancy in the position of superintendent of the fish commission station at Green Lake, Maine.

The subjects of the examination will be orthography, penmanship, copying, letter writing, arithmetic, book-keeping, geography and fish culture.

The examination will commence at 9 A. M. Those who desire to compete for the place should write to the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., at once an obtain and application blank.

The salary of the position is $1,500. All male citizens of the United States above the age of twenty are eligible to the examination.

Winterport News.

Our correspondent writes: Rev. M. C. Prescott is packing his goods preparatory to moving next week to Gloucester, Mass., to take charge of the church.

Rev. J. P. Simonton and wife returned home Friday from down river. He will resume his usual Sunday preaching at White's Corner, at 2 P. M.

Wilbur Prescott has been in town for a few days from Brooklyn.

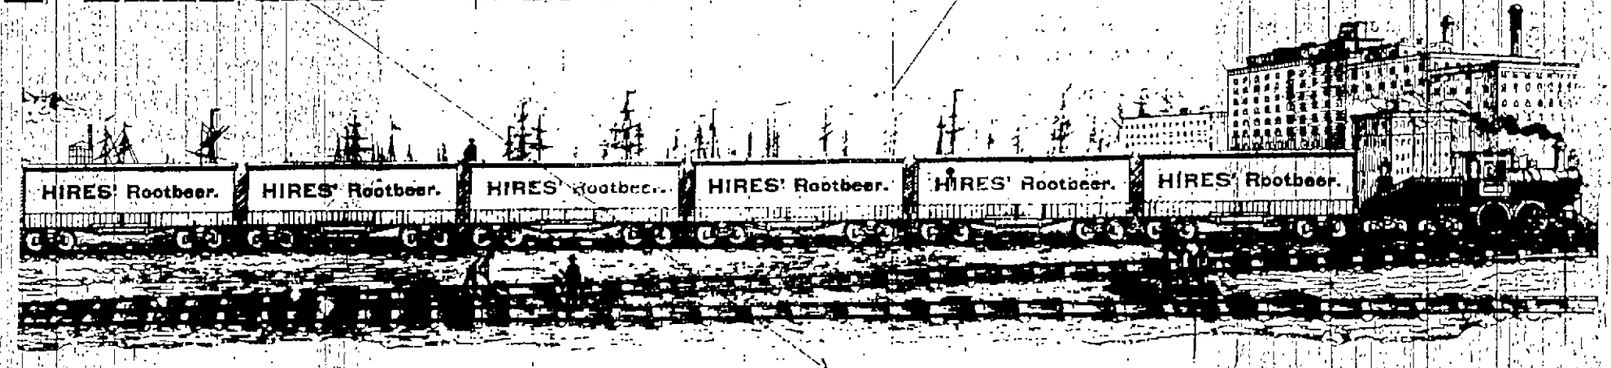
A HIRES' Rootbeer Train.



Why is HIRES Rootbeer so popular?

It is selling by the car load and train load. The above is from a photograph showing part of a Chicago train. The whole train consisted of 7 cars. Each car holding from 32,000 to 36,000 packages, would make the train represent 1,260,000 gallons. In other words, this one train carried enough to give twenty million people each a glass of that health-giving drink---HIRES' Rootbeer. Think of these figures which pertain to one shipment only, and that sold---not consigned. Every part of the country is getting its share of HIRES' Rootbeer. Is there any better answer to the question of value than the fact of universal and growing popularity? Are all the people mistaken; or is Hires' Rootbeer a really good thing? It's as plain to be seen as the nose on one's face that

The people have adopted HIRES

The only important question is, have you tried it in your home? Have your folks their share of this good thing which all other folks enjoy? If not, try it now. Be sure, however, that you get Hires'. Avoid the rootless substitutes.

Genuine sold everywhere. Made only by the CHARLES E. HIRES CO., Philadelphia.

OFFENSIVE ECZEMA

Suffered Terribly. Doctors and Medicines Useless. Cured in Four Weeks by Cuticura.

I have a boy, fifteen years old, born in Yakhill, portrait enclosed, who had the eczema so offensive that I could not stay in the room with him. The poor boy suffered terribly. His feet were terribly sore; he could not wear any shoes, and had therefore to stay at home from school. When he put on a pair of dry stockings in the morning, they would in one hour be saturated with moisture and very offensive even in the coldest weather. The disease began to spread over his body, especially his hands and fingers. The thumbs on both his hands became stiff and as useless as two wooden sticks or wood. It would be useless for me to try to tell the suffering this boy endured. I took him to two different Boston doctors, gave him lots of medicine, but all to no use. He grew worse. I therefore despaired of ever having him cured. One day I saw the great benefits promised to those who would use the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They cured him in four weeks as sound as a gold dollar. JOHN SHAYLER,
Yakhill Village, N.Y.

Mr. Elmer E. Strout, of Holden Center, has sold his handsome four-year-old roan colt to Ellsworth parties. The price paid was a good one.

Miss Grace G. Gordon, of Boston, who has been the guest of Miss Elizabeth Currier for several weeks, goes from here to Ellsworth for a visit of two weeks in that city before returning to her home.

The annual fair of the Orrington Agricultural Society is to be held this year, on the 19th, 20th, and 21st of September, and preparations for an event of more than an ordinarily interesting character are being made.

Mary J. Whitcomb, of the neighboring town of Orrington, died at her home there Thursday at the age of 63 years and two months. Many friends will deeply regret to learn the sad news. The funeral occurs this afternoon at two o'clock.

The big four-masted barkentine James W. Elwell, was on the beach at Warren's dock, yesterday, receiving some repairs. A four masted barkentine is an uncommon rig, and the craft attracts much attention. She is a big one, her register being over 1,100 tons.

Cards have been received in the city announcing the marriage of Mr. Alvah Elsemore and Miss Ida Edgett, at St. Paul, Minn. Mr. Elsemore belongs in Machias, but resided in this city a few years and his many friends here will extend him the best of wishes in his new happiness.

A typographical error in the report of Thursday evening's City Council meeting made us state that the Street Commissioner was instructed to notify owners of fences or buildings encroaching on Wilson street, to move them and to investigate as to how long the fences or buildings had occupied their present position. It should have said the committee on streets received the above instructions.

L. P. MORTON'S LOSS.

The Ex-Vice President's Valuable Guernsey Herd and Bills Burn Destroyed.

RHINECLIFF, N. Y., Aug. 2.—Ninety-eight Guernseys of the noble herd owned by Levi P. Morton were burned to death early this morning. There were ninety-five cows, several of them the finest of their kind in the world, and three bulls, one of them without his equal anywhere. The fire, the origin of which is still a mystery, destroyed totally buildings covering three acres on Mr. Morton's 1,000 acre estate, Ellerslie estate, near here. The huge barn, with the cattle; the poultry houses, with 3,000 broilers; the incubators, with 3,000 eggs, 600 of which would have been hatched to-day, were burned to the ground. The loss, as nearly as could be estimated, is from $125,000 to $150,000.

Apart from the actual money loss, the destruction of the bulls which have become famous wherever Guernseys are bred, is a bitter blow to Mr. Morton, and will be felt as a calamity by all cattle breeders, for the animals came from celebrated strains. Among the cattle lost are the great bull Midas, pronounced by many the "best bull" in the world; the bull Safeguard, almost as well known; the bull Acetil, the cows Bella Luce, Midas Dam; Benfatrice, the finest cow in the stable, one of the finest and most typical Guernseys ever shown, and never beaten in any show for points or production; Passagere, the heaviest yielder in the herd; Miss Ill; Chamolesse II, May Blossom, Belle of the Hill, Lady Bountiful, Cream Horn, Good Morning and Margo.

The two last named attracted much attention at the Food Show in the Madison Square Garden last year, Margo being one of the largest Guernseys in the world.

Abducted a Green Man.

Jacob Wilson arrived in Chicago, yesterday, and is stopping at the Gault house. Mr. Wilson has had an experience which few men in these commonplace days can relate. It is sensational and romantic at once. His story is this:

"In 1888 I was coming to the close of a career that, unfortunately, had been marked with dissipation. I had inherited a fortune of $1,000,000. In 1883 I was married to a Mary Kean, then a saleswoman in Lord & Taylor's dry goods store. We lived together until 1888, when she evolved a plan that for devilishness has seldom been equaled. I was put under the influence of liquor and led to sign what I supposed was a power of attorney to manage the estate; I was taken where my presence would serve as ground for divorce. That night I was drugged and put on board a ship bound for Australia.

"When I regained my senses I knew that I had signed a deed of my property instead of a power of attorney. I arrived in Melbourne penniless, and am now on my way back to New York. I worked my passage to Portland, Oregon, and there interested Attorney M. J. MacMahon. He is going to New York with me, and we expect to recover the property. My wife, by the testimony of her confederates, caused a divorce from me."

The story Mr. Wilson tells sounds like a [illegible]

A GERMAN GIRL ASSAULTED.

Three Men Charged with the Crime in Custody—Miss Nelson's Condition Critical.

That portion of the city lying west of the Schuylkill has been the scene of numerous highway robberies and high-handed outrages for several months, but the most fiendish act yet reported came to light yesterday, after it had been suppressed for more than twenty-four hours by the police of the Twenty-first district, in which the offense occurred, says the Philadelphia North-American. The victim was Olene Nelson, a pretty young German girl, who is now lying in the Philadelphia Hospital on the verge of insanity from the effects of the cruel treatment of three men at a late hour on Saturday night.

It seems that for some time past she has been employed at 5805 Woodland avenue as a waitress. A few weeks ago she had a slight illness, and a little more than a week since was told by her employer to take a short vacation, so that she might regain her strength. She went to visit her brother, William, in Germantown.

On Friday night, after having fully recovered, she started to return to West Philadelphia. Meeting some friends at the station, she remained in town longer than she intended, and left for her employer's home on the last Market-street car.

She got off at Thirty-third street, and appealed to three men who were standing on the corner to show or tell her the way to Fifty-eighth street and Woodland avenue, stating in her broken English that she was a stranger, in that part of the city.

The men willingly agreed to show Miss Nelson to her home, saying that they lived in her neighborhood and were going that way.

They led her by side streets and byways to Forty-sixth street and Woodland avenue, where the girl stopped and refused to go further, as she began to suspect that the men were trying to deceive her.

Finding that she would not go on they told her to hand over her valuables. This she refused to do, and tried to call for help, but they choked her into unconsciousness, leaving deep marks on her throat and fairly tearing the flesh from her arm. They then robbed her of a dollar and a half, she had in her possession, and after outrageously assaulting her left her for dead on the sidewalk.

A little later she was found by Policeman Featherstone and sent to the police station, where the district surgeon, Dr. Grayson, pronounced her to be in a critical condition, and had her conveyed to the Philadelphia Hospital, where she now lies bordering on insanity, with small chances for her recovery.

The police have succeeded in capturing all three of the men. They are Alfred Wilmer, aged twenty-five years, of Thirty-fourth and Sansom streets; Edward Kirkman, aged twenty-six years, of Thirty-sixth and Walnut streets, and Frank Helms, aged thirty-six years, of 3713 Woodland avenue.

Kirkman's house was surrounded for twenty hours before he was finally captured under his porch, where he had hurled himself, with all but his head, in the earth. Twice he had tried to escape by running along the roof, but was headed off each time. Wilmer was captured at his home later without much trouble, and Helms, who is a married man with two children, was apprehended at Atlantic City.

Kirkman was given a hearing before Magistrate Rudolph, and was committed without bail for a further hearing. Kirkman says that all three of them assaulted the girl, but Helms denies that he took any part in the affair, but admits being present when the outrage was committed. Kirkman was taken to the Philadelphia Hospital yesterday and was fully identified by Miss Nelson as one of her assailants. The girl's condition is critical, and fears are entertained for her recovery. Magistrate Randall went to the hospital, but did not take her ante-mortem statement, as the physicians would not say that there was no hopes for her recovery.

JOHNSON COMMITTED.

Coroner's Jury Find Him Guilty of Murdering His Child.

ALLENTOWN, Aug. 2. Bertie May Johnson, the little girl whose body was found in the Lehigh River on Monday morning, was buried this afternoon in Union Cemetery, and her father, Harry Johnson, must answer for her death at the September term of court. The Coroner's Jury met in the court house last evening, and it was late to-night before a verdict was returned charging Johnson with causing the death of his child. The evidence showed that the child was homeless. Her mother could not support her and her grandmother was ill, and while the latter clothed the child and kept her for several weeks she did not feel as if she could be burdened with her continually. The child's father felt no disposition to pay out his earnings for her support.

In his testimony Johnson contradicted himself in several instances. He still insisted that he gave the girl to a strange man, and declared emphatically that he has not been near the Lehigh River for two years. Mrs. Henry Dell, a cousin to Mrs. Johnson, testified that when she read the account of the finding of a little girl in the river it so preyed on her mind that on Monday night she dreamed that Bertie had come to her bed and that as she was about to reach out for her she disappeared. Next day she called where the corpse was and identified the body as that of Bertie Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson, Bertie's mother, testified that she saw her daughter the last time about five weeks ago, when she took her to the station where Johnson worked. The latter threatened to kick his wife out. During the examination Johnson sat with bowed head and large beads of perspiration stood on his forehead. While there is still an element of doubt in the case, the feeling against Johnson is very bitter and the general impression is that he [illegible]
